HealthStream's LMS, HealthStream Learning Center®, Ranked #1 in G2's Prestigious List of "2025 Best Software in Healthcare"

February 20, 2025

NASHVILLE, Tenn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Feb. 20, 2025-- HealthStream, Inc. (Nasdaq: HSTM), a leading healthcare technology platform for workforce solutions, announced today that its Learning Management System (LMS), the HealthStream Learning Center®, was awarded the #1 spot in G2's 2025 ranking of the best software applications in healthcare. G2's healthcare category includes software applications of many types and functions, spanning thousands of vendors' products serving the healthcare industry.

This announcement comes as HealthStream is in the middle of a transformative, multi-year commitment of continuous innovation for the HealthStream Learning Center. The Company's ongoing efforts have included a range of healthcare-specific enhancements, including integrated primary source license and certification verification services, point-of-care device integrations, and significant technology advances, including a new reporting and analytics stack and application and a suite of APIs empowering customers and partners to streamline key processes.

"Today, the HealthStream Learning Center, our Learning Management System (LMS) application, is used by thousands of hospitals and healthcare organizations in the U.S. to support their workforce," said Robert A. Frist, Jr., Chief Executive Officer, HealthStream. "Since G2's ranking is based on authentic, verified users' evaluations of the HealthStream Learning Center, it is particularly gratifying to have earned the top position in the healthcare industry. We've always understood that healthcare delivery is first and foremost about "people"—caregivers providing compassionate care to patients—and we've built our software solutions with that in mind."

G2's 2025 Best Software Awards feature dozens of lists, ranking software vendors and products using G2's proprietary algorithm based on G2's verified user reviews and publicly available market presence data. Across all industries, G2 reaches 100 million buyers annually. Together their database includes over 180,000 software products and services listings and 2.8 million user reviews.
